Journal of Geochemical Exploration, 39 (1991) 387–388
Elsevier Science Publishers B.V., Amsterdam

Contents Volume 39 (1990, 1991)

Special issue

International Geochemical Mapping, edited by Arthur G. Darnley and Robert G. Garrett
Introduction vii
International geochemical mapping: a new global project
A.G. Darnley (Ottawa, Ont., Canada) 1
Some problems, strategical and tactical, in international geochemical mapping
Xie Xuejing (Hebei, P.R. China) 15
Geochemical patterns related to major tectomo-stratigraphic units in the Precambrian of northern Scandinavia and Greenland
A. Steenfelt (Copenhagen, Denmark) 35
Geochemical and metallogenic provinces: a discussion initiated by results from geochemical mapping across northern Fennoscandia
B. Bölviken (Trondheim, Norway), G. Kullerud and R.R. Loucks (West Lafayette, Ind., U.S.A.) 49
Regional geochemical data compilation and map preparation, Labrador, Canada
R.G. Garrett, R.M.P. Banville and S.W. Adcock (Ottawa, Ont., Canada) 91
A comparison of regional geochemical data from lakes and streams in northern Labrador, implications for mixed-media geochemical mapping
P.H. Davenport (St. John's, Nfld., Canada) 117
Metallogenic domains and their reflections in regional lake sediment surveys from the Meguma Zone, southern Nova Scotia, Canada
P.J. Rogers and A.K. Chatterjee (Halifax, N.S., Canada), and J.W. Aucott (London, U.K.) 153
Tectonic terranes, metallogeny and regional geochemical surveys: an example from northern British Columbia
W.J. McMillan, S. Day and P.F. Matysek (Victoria, B.C., Canada) 175
Regional geochemistry and the identification of metallogenic provinces: examples from leadzinc-barium, tin-uranium and gold deposits
J.A. Plant, N. Breward, P.R. Simpson and D. Slater (Nottingham, U.K.) 195
Application of geochemical mapping techniques to a complex Precambrian shield area in Labrador, Canada
A. Kerr and P.H. Davenport (St. John's, Nfld., Canada) 225
Modern aerial gamma-ray spectrometry and regional potassium map of the conterminous United States
J.S. Duval (Reston, Va., U.S.A.) 249

Special issue
Gold Geochemistry in Finland, edited by Alf J. Björklund
Gold deposits of Finland
K. Puustinen (Espoo, Finland) 255

0375-6742/91/$03.50 © 1991 — Elsevier Science Publishers B.V.

Geological setting, history of discovery and exploration economics of Precambrian gold occurrences in Finland
P.A. Nurmi (Espoo, Finland) 273
Gold contamination of the fine fraction of till during sampling and sample preparation
E. Kontas (Rovaniemi, Finland) 289
Size, form and composition of gold grains in glacial drift in Ilomantsi, eastern Finland
M. Nikkarinen (Kuopio, Finland) 295
Gold in bedrock and glacial deposits in the Ivalojoki area, Finnish Lapland
M. Saarnisto (Espoo, Finland), E. Tamminen (Rovaniemi, Finland) and M. Vaasjoki (Espoo, Finland) 303
Application of till geochemistry to gold exploration, Ilomantsi, Finland
A. Hartikainen and M. Damsten (Kuopio, Finland) 323
Till geochemistry of gold, arsenic and antimony in the Seinäjoki district, western Finland
P. Lestinen (Kuopio, Finland), E. Kontas, H. Niskavaara and J. Virtasslo (Rolvaniemi, Finland) 343
Geochemistry of till and humus in the Kotkajärvi Cu-Co-Au prospect, Kalvola, southern Finland
V. Peuraniemi (Oulu, Finland) 363
Geochemical gold prospecting at Vinsanmaa, northern Finland
M. Ayräs (Rovaniemi, Finland) 379